THEWALLACEINCIDENT

REPLY TO SCATHING INDICTMENT IS EXPECTED.

Alleged Correspondence in New York Said to Clear Former Engineer of Improper Motives.

Special Dispatch to The Star. NEW YORK, June 30 .- Friends of John F. Wallace, who has thrown up his job as chief engineer of the Panama canal, are awaiting expectantly a reply which they are confident he will make to the scathing indictment of Secretary of War Taft. They are positive that he will not rest quietly under such words as "for mere lucre you change your position over night, without thought of the embarrassing position in which you place your government by this action.' The official secrecy with which Mr. Wallace's resignation has been shrouded for some days was dispelled last night by the issuance of a statement from Washington by Secretary Taft.

A representative of the New York Times saw correspondence in that city last night which showed conclusively that Mr. Wallace did not seek the post from which he recently resigned, but that it was offered to him in an official letter, sanctioned by the President.

When the American Railway Association convened in Philadelphia last October Stuyvesant Fish asserted positively that he had recommended the selection of Mr. Wallace recommended the selection of Mr. Wallace as chief engineer of the canal to the President. In a talk with a Times reporter he said that Mr. Wallace was the most expert engineer in the United States, and that the President had asked him to name a man whom he thought was capable of superintending such a work.

Mr. Fish also said that the place made vacant by Mr. Wallace leaving the Illinois Central would be kept open for him should he see fit to return to the United States.

Mr. Fish also said that Mr. Wallace was the most expert civil engineer available for the canal.

When a Times reporter saw Mr. Wal-the most expert civil engineer available for the canal.

When a Times reporter saw Mr. Wallace's confidential representative last night and showed him the statement issued by Secretary Taft at Washington, Wallace's representative said:

"It is not Mr. Wallace's purpose to make any statement contradictory to what the President has said. I am positive, however that he will not stand by and permit his name to be impugned. My chief comes from the sturdy Scotch-Irish race, and more than that, he is a man of the strictest veracity. When he accepted the place it was his purpose to remain in charge of the construction of the Panama canal until its completion.

"When he went to the isthmus on his last trip he was satisfied that every requisition he made would be promptly filled. Nevertheless there was delay after delay, and, more than that, Mr. Wallace experienced much difficulty in getting sufficient manual labor even to start the work. Frequent clashes came, and there was much difficulty in securing prompt attention from Colonel Edwards who had charge much difficulty in securing prompt atten-tion from Colonel Edwards, who had charge of the supplies for the canal construction. "When I talked with Mr. Wallace this afternoon he was more determined than ever that he would not make any statement concerning his position until he had not only consulted with his counsel, but after the President and Secretary Taft had made their statements. He was very much hurt their statements. He was very much hurt that it should be charged that an offer of an unusual salary should induce him to give up a post which was in truth the ambition of his life. When he left the Illinois "Central railroad it was his purpose to remain with the government in the Panama canal work until it had been accomplished, yet I know that he would not stand idly by and countenance transactions, which by and countenance transactions which would bring discredit to the government in such a great enterprise "When I left Mr. Wallace this afternoon it was evident that he was struggling un-der a great weight of responsibility. I beieve that before another week go make a statement which will conclusively to be made that will place as many men-possibly more-behind the bars than were arriving in town from Boston, to say that Mr. Wallace was to be executive head of the Interborough's new railway projects.

TO STAND BY FACULTY

EASTERN HIGH SCHOOL COM- DEATH OF CAPT. ROBB DUE TO MITTEE TO REPORT TONIGHT.

show that he was justified in tendering his resignation, and will cause an investigation The Board of Education to Consider Subject-Rumored Changes in Faculty.

> The report of the committee appointed to investigate the troubles at the Eastern High School is ready to make its report, and it is expected the board of education, when it meets tonight, will consider the same. Briefly, it is a complete vindication of the action of Principal Swartzell and the

> What the board of education will do is merely conjecture, but from the position of several members already announced there is little doubt of its acceptance. This will mean the retention of Mr. Swartzell as principal of the Eastern High School. And those who are in a position to know claim it will be the entering wedge for resolutions which will the more thoroughly regulate matters scholastic and athletic in the high > schools of Washington.

> The committee charged with the investigation met yesterday afternoon, and heard several witnesses. Among them the superintendent testified, and the director of high schools, Prof. Hughes, who by the way investigated this very matter himself and recommended the withholding of diplomas of graduation to the recalcitrant pupils, reiterated what he had discovered. The entire subject was threshed over, and the committee, when it had heard the tes-timony of those summoned, were agreed that no fault could with propriety be lodged against the principal or the factulty for the action they had taken. And it is understood the committee was also of the opinion that the utter disregard for school rules by the boys was inexcusable and they deserved the highest censure. One of the members of the committee said to a Star reporter today: "After a very careful investigation of the subject intrusted to us we are satisfied that the faculty is in no wise to blame for the very unwholesome condition of affairs that obtained at the Eastern High School during the last school year. There has been a good deal of bad feeling there, engendered largely by the boys.

"That they showed utter disregard for school rules is acknowledged by them, and the only cause for complaint against the principal is that he carried out the rules given him by those above him in authority. There is no charge of incompetency against either Mr. Swartzell or the faculty. Such a charge could not stand, for every citizen is familiar with the high standing the Eastern High School has maintained in its scholarships. Theirs, indeed, is a fine rec-ord, and I hope it will be kept up." There was some talk this afternoon that at least one member of the board of education was in favor of transferring Princi-pal Swartzell to some other district, but it is not believed, in view of the facts and the excellent record he has made at Eastern, that any change will be made.

autopsy on the body of Capt. Rochester Robb, a Treasury Department clerk, this morning and found that his death was due to nephritis, valvular disease of the heart and syncope. Capt. Robb died last night about 11:30 o'clock in his apartment at the Brunswick apartment house. Prior to a week ago he had been attended by a physician, but as the latter was not in attendance just prior to the time of his death he would not give a death certificate. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of William R. Speare on F

Coroner Nevitt would have issued a certificate of death without having an autopsy performed had it not been that friends of the deceased suggested otherwise. The attending physician had full knowledge of the case and explained to the coroner that he had treated him for heart disease, but, as already stated, he did not feel that he should give a death certificate, as he was not attending the captain at the time he

The autoposy showed that the diagnosis of the physician was correct and the cor-oner gave the necessary death certificate. The deceased, who was sixty-eight years old, was a native of Kentucky and was a widower. He came here about fifteen years ago and was employed as a clerk in the Freasury Department shortly after coming to this city. His funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be at Rock Creek cemetery.

RAILWAY MEN'S PICNIC.

Thousands Unite in Festivities at River View.

The members of the Washington Railway Employes' Relief Association and their friends are making merry on the lawns of River View today. Thousands of people took advantage of this opportunity to make a trip down the river, where the heat of the city could be avoided and a pleasant day spent in picnic fashion, enjoying the various forms of amusement presented by the managers of the resort. Everybody seemed to be animated with a desire to help the railroad men, who were the hosts of the occasion.

The program prepared for the delectation of the guests, in addition to the regular attractions, is long and calculated to amuse. Field sports of various kinds will hold the turf this afternoon and evening. The re-celpts from the sale of tickets goes to swell the relief fund of the association, and as more than 20,000 tickets have already been sold the relief fund seems in a fair way to reap tangible benefit.

The railway relief excursion is reckoned as the biggest of the year at River View, and the boats run between Washington and the resort in regular ferry fashion. Be-ginning at 10 o'clock this morning a sched-ule was started that calls for nine trips down the river during the day. There will be four boats between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening, the first one at 6, the second at 6:30, the third at 6:45 and the last at 7

George Drake of Allegheny, Pa., a street car conductor, killed himself yesterday by cutting his throat with a razor, after having so badily beaten a woman named Mrs. Nellie Calhoon that she may die. F. P. Poston, a single man, about fifty years old, tried to kill himself at a Charles-town, W. Va., hotel Wednesday night by asphyxiation. The chambermald found him overcome by gas and may not recover.
